Dear Mr. Ramp;

Dr. Boris Bogatz has told me of your program designed to prepare trial assistants. It sounds as though you have identified and are working toward meeting a real need in Micronesia.

The Community College of Micronesia has established an extension program that provides an opportunity for adults to continue their education beyond high school. We realize there are many adults living here and in other districts that cannot, for one reason or another, leave home to work toward a degree, certificate or even begin to accumulate college credits . . . and this is where we may help.

Would it be possible for us to get together and discuss your program? Perhaps we may be able to work toward offering a Community College of Micronesia Certificate to participants who successfully complete the program.

I'm available throughout the day in the Extension Office at the rear of the Community College of Micronesia Library.

Sincerely yours,

Fred Ekman
