JOINT PRESS RELEASE

The U. S. Delegation Friday was preparing its response to the Thursday Micronesian proposals on termination of a future relationship, as well as to their replies to earlier U. S. proposals on defense and foreign affairs matters.

Ambassador Franklin Boyde Williams, chairman of the U. S. Delegation, met twice Friday with the Micronesian co-chairmen, Senator Lazarus Sali and Congressman Erap Sili, to discuss the present stage of negotiations, to exchange ideas on substantive issues raised in previous sessions and to plan future agenda items.

Ambassador Williams said he planned to propose another formal session for Saturday morning to speak on the termination, defense and foreign affairs issues.

JOINT PRESS RELEASE

The U. S. Delegation Friday was preparing its response to the Tuesday Micronesian proposals on termination of a future relationship, as well as to their replies to earlier U. S. proposals on defense and foreign affairs matters.

Ambassador Franklin Hayden Williams, chairman of the U. S. Delegation, met twice Friday with the Micronesian co-chairmen, Senator Laurus Sali, and Congressman Ekap Sili, to discuss the present stage of negotiations, to exchange ideas on substantive issues raised in previous sessions and to plan future agenda items.

Ambassador Williams said he planned to propose another formal session for Saturday morning to speak on the termination, defense and foreign affairs issues.
