

The Specs

BY VIC PANGELINAN

What probable impact would the presence of a giant U.S. Military Base on Tinian have on the Marianas? Probable impact you ask? Well, how does a 100 megaton thermo nuclear explosion over Tinian sound to you? A big "boom" like that would be enough to get everyone on Rota, Tinian and Saipan "well done". Those on Guam and on the Northern Islands would probably be just "pink rare" or "medium done". Lucky guys!

So you ask why would anybody want to do a thing like that? And I say, why would anybody want to build a thing like that?

Well anyhow, when its all over we the "zombies" can get together and sing:

Back to Back and
Belly to Belly
We don't give a Damn
We done dead Already!

But oh!, what a headache that would be for the poor U. S. Military. They would have to go and look for another place...to set up a base...for the sake of peace...that is...of course.
