Dear Howard:

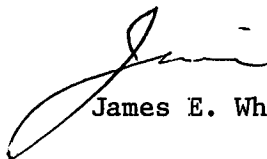

Our family very much appreciates the remembrances recently received. We thoroughly enjoyed Susan's recent visit (yours too). The other day as Joan and I were having lunch at the Hafa Adai we looked out at the pool, saw a woman with a similar bathing suit to Susan's, and we kind of smiled to ourselves wondering whether or not Washington was treating you as well.

If I remember correctly you do receive the Pacific Daily News with all its little nuances. However, I felt the enclosed article's description of a "Superlawyer" is not one that would make the big time but is still worth while for, if nothing else, at least Bulletin Board duty.

I want you to know our effort at checking information leaks from our Commission has been one hundred percent effective. From the date you left until the present, as far as I know, there has been no divulging of the contents of the Land Position Paper. Ed is going to print all the Position Papers in a booklet form for distribution purposes later. This belated publication approach, although somewhat conservative, in the long run may be more effective.

We all appreciate your son's musical endeavors on our behalf. It is our favorite tape as of this moment. I do have one special inquiry, are you practicing your ping pong (especially those first two games)?

Sincerely yours

James E. White
