Once more, where does the money go? Some of us already know where and how it goes. For example, a member of the Marianas Status Commission replied, "it takes money to bring money" when asked if it's true that the coming session of the Marianas-U.S. negotiations will be held on Hawaii.

The Marianas Status Commission just recently received a $50,000 appropriation from the MDL, and we already know where it's going--to the Hawaiian economy.
