SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI) - Jose A. Benitez, former U.S. Deputy High Commissioner to the Trust Territory (TT) has been asked to formulate an economic development program for the Northern Marianas.

The Nonthern Mariana Islands, are expected to become a U.S. commonwealth and possibly an associate state along the lines of Puerto Rico.

Benitez said he was asked to develop the program by Francisco T. Palacios, president of the Free Associate State Movement of the Marianas.

He said he welcomed the request and "will do all in my power to help and cooperate with the Marianas in this respect.

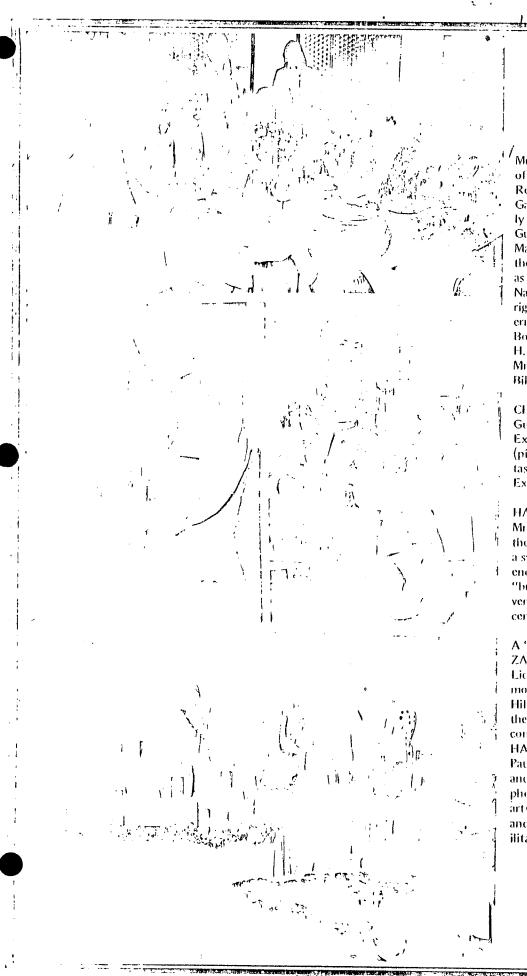

Benitez, who was appointed deputy high commissioner by the late President Kennedy, said he was meeting with Puerto Rican government officials, industrialists, bankers and economists to put together a technical assistance mission to the Marianas.

He said he was also trying to organize investments there.

"When a people freely votes, like that of the Marianas did, to associate with the United States, and the election is supervised by the United Nations, it is impossible to reject it," he said. Benitez said he formulated the project for converting the Marianas into an associate state along the lines of Puerto Rico while deputy TT high commissioner.

Envoys from the Marianas have visited Puerto Rico many times to study the status of he island, he said.

Mr. & Mrs. Jose Benitez were the guests of honor at a dinner party given by Mr. Robert H. Jones in the Guam Hilton's Galleon Griff. Mr. Benitez was formerly the Deputy High Commission () of Guam and High Commissioner for the Mariana Islands. He will now represent the new Commonwealth of the Marianas as Ambassador to the United Nations. A "WINE TASTING EXTRAVAGAN-ZA" -- jointly sponsored by Mid Fac-Liquors, Tommy's Bakery and Forcmost Dairies, took place in the Guam-Hilton during July. On opening day, the Hilton's Marianas Ballroom was converted into a total Wine Taster's HAPPENING ... a wide selection of Paul Masson wines, a variety of checkes and breads were displayed, (bottom photo) together with an exhibition of artwork by local artist, Chad Beaubien and handicrafts from the Guam Rehabilitation Center.
