Dear Jake:

I received yesterday your comments on the Bill of Rights paper and I thought they were most helpful. We seem to be communicating more efficiently and we are all looking forward to seeing you in person on August 29.

I neglected to inquire in connection with your review of the Executive Branch paper whether you think a separate paper on a Civil Service system is needed. Our tentative view is that a separate paper is not needed.

I am enclosing a draft paper on Eligibility to Vote and Election Procedures and short papers on Corporations and Education. My accounting shows that you have now received nine papers:

Executive Branch
~~Legislative Branch~~
Judicial Branch
Bill of Rights
Local Government
Land Alienation
Eligibility to Vote
Corporations
Education

We are in the process of preparing five additional papers:

Taxation and Public Finance
Amendment and Revision
Public Lands
Washington Representation
Scheduling and Transition and if possible, I will have the first two of those to you by the end of this week. The remaining three will probably have to await review while you are in Washington.

Sincerely,

Deanne C. Siemer
