

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON ORGANIZATION AND PROCEDURES
PLENARY SESSION, 7/20

1. As to the schedule, our goal is still to get all the articles to the floor on first reading this week, by the time we finish plenary session on Saturday. We have Article 3, Article 10, Article 15, Article 18, and Article 19 ready to be considered by the Convention today. As I said at the beginning, I would like to continue the session today until we finish all five articles. That will leave just Article 6, Article 11, and Article 12 for Saturday. The Legislative Committee still has to finish the first draft of the Schedule on Transitional Matters, but we are not going to do that on first reading. We have been looking at those transition provisions for each article as we go along, and we will get to the combined version as soon as we can.

2. As to second reading, we will start second reading on Monday. We plan to take the articles in order, starting with the Preamble and going all the way through the Schedule on Transitional Matters at the end. In order to do this, each of the four committees will need to meet before their articles come up for second reading.

. First, the committee needs to see if there are any delegate proposals that you didn't consider when you reported out for second reading. We want to be sure that every delegate proposal has been considered. So we will need a report from the committees on that.

. Second, the committee needs to take account of the comments and suggestions that were made on the floor during first reading, and decide if any of those changes should be adopted.

. Third, the committee needs to consider any delegate amendments that have been referred to it by COP.

The Committee should issue a report for the floor on second reading telling the delegates if there are any changes to be proposed in what was passed on first reading. If there are no changes recommended by the Committee, there should be a very short report stating that, so delegates who have amendments know they need to make them on the floor.

We will distribute a schedule for next week, hopefully tomorrow, that will show what days the committees should be considering the various articles to get them ready for the second reading.

We basically have only one more week, because we will need to approve the analysis and the full constitution at the end of our proceedings and that will take a little time to get together. So next week will be a lot of hard work. We will probably have plenary sessions every day.

Thank you.
