

SECRETARY CALLS ON PUBLISHER—Secretary Fred Seaton of the Dept. of Interior, right, chats with Publisher Joseph Flores in the latter's office yesterday morning during an unscheduled call before the visiting cabinet official and his party left by plane for Yap and Palau Islands. The secretary's first comment after he arrived at the DAILY NEWS was: "You have a darned good paper, and you can quote me on that." Other photos on page 9.

Seaton Visits NEWS--Off For Yap

Secretary of Interior Fred Seaton made an unscheduled call on the DAILY NEWS yesterday morning, and his first remark to Publisher Joseph Flores and Managing Editor Alex Flores was:

"You have a darned good paper, and you can quote me on that."

TO RETURN FRIDAY

The secretary and his party left yesterday for Yap and Palau islands in the Trust Territory, accompanied by High Commissioner and Mrs. Delmas Nucker. He is expected to return here Friday.

Accompanied by two members of his staff—Director Anthony Lausi of the Office of Territories and Associate Solicitor A. M. Edwards—Seaton toured the facilities of the press and commented that he did not expect to find such a "fine" plant here.

ATTENDED CEREMONY

The secretary paused at a linotype machine being operated by a Guamanian linotypist trainee, Teresita Blas of Mangilao; and said he "used to operate one of those things in my own plant and if I had the time now I would like to show you."

Earlier yesterday morning at Nucker's office, Seaton attended an award presentation ceremony at which 17 Trust Territory employees were honored for longevity of service with the Federal government.

Among them were: Emil Strench, budget officer, who has served about 38.5 years (he received a 30-year pin); Nucker and Deputy High Commissioner Eugene R. Gilmartin who each received 10-year pins.

OTHER RECIPIENTS

Other recipients: for 20-year service—Nat Logan-Smith, personnel officer; Joseph C. Putnam, chief counsel; Charles Bean, administrative officer; Clarence Patrick, construction specialist, and Alfred C. Duenas, voucher examiner; for 10-year service—Richard D. Munden, auditor; Mae Naugle, secretary; Jesus P. Sablan, engineering draftsman; Luis A. Casil, headquarters janitor, and Joseph Driskell, director of public safety.

YAP WELCOME

A special program of Yap dances was scheduled at Yap last night for Secretary Seaton and his party. The group was to arrive in Yap at 12:30 yesterday afternoon. The touring group will visit the Money Bank and the Keng Men's House this morning and will leave Yap sometime this afternoon for Koror, Palau islands.

Besides Lausi and Edwards, the secretary's party includes his secretary, Miss Leona Tise, and his son, Donald.

The party arrived here last Saturday after visiting Samoa and the Trust Territory islands in the Marshall group.

FLANKED BY PLANT equipment are Interior Secretary Fred Seaton, left, and NEWS-SUN Publisher Joseph Flores during the Secretary's tour of the press facilities yesterday morning before the visiting cabinet official left for Yap and Palau islands. With the secretary and Publisher Flores at top, right, is A.M. Edwards, associate solicitor in the Dept. of Interior, and in bottom photo are, left to right: Anthony Lausi, director, Office of Territories, Dept. of Interior; Solicitor Edwards, and Tony Palomo, of the NEWS-SUN staff. Girl with back to camera in top photo is lino-typist-trainee Teresita Blas of Mangilao. Story on Page 1.

GUAM DAILY NEWS
August 28, 1957

SEATED AT THE HEAD TABLE at the luncheon Monday sponsored by the legislative and judiciary branches are, left to right: Maj. Gen. Charles W. Schott, commander, 3rd Air Division, SAC; Governor Lowe; Director Lausi; Secretary Seaton; Speaker Antonio B. Won-Pat; Solicitor Edwards; Radm. W. B. Ammon, ComNavMarianas; the Most Rev. A. W. Baumgartner, OFM Cap., bishop of Guam; District Court Judge Paul D. of Guam William T. Corbe were reviewed followed the Agana.

AT RECEPTION MONDAY EVENING, Secretary Seaton greets guests with Governor and Mrs. Lowe and High Commissioner and Mrs. Delmas Nucker, right. Mrs. Lowe is at left. Back to camera, Mrs. Isabel Arriola. The reception for the secretary and his staff was held at Government House, the governor's residence on Tutujan Hts., and was jointed by the High Commissioner. Civilian, military and military personnel were pictured in photo at right at Agana. Joaquin Arriola and Phillip

Monday sponsored by the left: Maj. Gen. Charles W. Schott, District Court Judge Paul D. Shriver; High Commissioner Nucker, and Secretary of Guam William T. Corbett. A conference at which various island problems were reviewed followed the luncheon. It was held at the Congress Building, Agaña.

Seaton greets guests with Gov. Mrs. Delmas Nucker, right. Arriola. The reception for the House, the governor's residence on Tutujan Hts., and was jointly sponsored by the governor and the high commissioner. Civilian, military and church officials were among the guests. The guests pictured in photo at right are left to right: Congressmen Sablan, Jesus Okiyama, Joaquin Arriola and Philippine Consul Victorino Paredes.